Dear Interested Party,

The Bitterroot National Forest, Darby/Sula Ranger District, has prepared an environmental assessment (EA) for the Darby Lumbers Lands – Phase 2 Project. The project is located on the Darby Ranger District of the Bitterroot National Forest. The project area is located in Rye Creek, Little Sleeping Child Creek, Harlan Creek, Roan Gulch, Burke Gulch, North Fork Rye Creek, and Robbins Gulch drainages in the Sapphire Mountain Range, east of Darby, Montana.

This project was proposed to design and implement a suitable transportation system for long-term land management, improve forest health and reduce potential fire severity; and provide timber products and related jobs. The project proposes changes to access on specific existing roads and trails, storing and decommissioning specific unneeded road and trails, and building two new OHV (<50" in width) connector trails. The project also proposes commercial harvest on about 1,274 acres and non-commercial thinning on about 333 acres of dry pine sites, prescribed burning of the treated units, and construction of system and temporary roads needed to complete activities.

The EA is available on-line at: <https://www.fs.usda.gov/project/?project=49700>. The EA is also available for review at the Darby Ranger Station and Supervisor's Office. Additional information regarding this action can be obtained from Eric Winthers, Darby District Ranger at 406-821-4244

The proposed project is an activity implementing a land management plan and not authorized under the HFRA and is subject to the Project-Level Predecisional Administrative Review Process (36 CFR 218 Subparts A and B).
